

Hola amigos,

I am writing to you from the beach! My family is enjoying a spring break vacation by visiting my cousins at their beach house. We are having so much fun jumping in the waves and playing beach football during the day! At night, the kids all play games while the parents make dinner. The rule is, if the parents cook, the kids have to do the dishes, but we don't mind that rule because I've been making sure everyone follows my OrganWise Guys rule: wear plenty of sunscreen! I make sure everyone applies and reapplies the sunscreen to make sure we can enjoy the entire vacation sunburn free!

Adios,
Madame Muscle
